Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Monday 07 Jun 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy showers for some on Monday. Dry and clear overnight.

Today:
Any mist and fog patches will clear shortly after dawn, followed by a dry morning with plenty of sunshine. It'll feel muggy though, with showers for many during the afternoon, occasionally heavy with a chance of thunder and hail. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers soon fading, then dry and largely clear with light winds, allowing mist and fog patches to develop around dawn. Cool in rural areas. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
A fine and largely sunny start to the day. Becoming increasingly cloudy later on but some brighter spells still likely during the afternoon. Remaining dry and warm. Maximum temperature 24 deg C (75 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Remaining warm through this period. Cloudier than previous days, especially in the west, but some good amounts of sunshine in the afternoon, particularly in the east. A chance of showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.